

Dr Livingstone Thompson

Dr Livingstone Thompson visited the School of Business, JAMK University of Applied Sciences, Finland in 22-26.9.2014 as an invited guest lecturer. In addition to teaching business students, he conducted workshops and gave lectures about the topic of diversity management to a group of tourism and hospitality students.

Dr Thompson received excellent feedback. The students appreciated both the topic of diversity management as well as Dr Thompson's pedagogical approach. He was able to highlight the importance of understanding cultural differences especially from the point of view of tourism industry. Students were encouraged to participate during the workshops and also apply the new knowledge at their workplaces.

I am very pleased to recommend Dr Thompson's expertise in the field.

Minna-Maaria Hiekkataipale
Head of department, Tourism and hospitality
School of Business
JAMK University of applied sciences

Jyväskylä 30.9.2014