

Living Cultural Solutions

Offering Relocation Cultural Awareness Training for International Companies

RELOCATION TRAINING

Have you ever wondered whether your workers have the full range of cultural skills needed to interface effectively with the ever-increasing global market and the multicultural workforce in which companies operate?

Living Cultural Solutions Ltd can help you address the deficit in the company's cultural knowledge and skills. We are a company specializing in cultural awareness building, backed by over 20 years experience in education and training. Drawing on our extensive experience, our objective is to help you resolve intercultural conflicts so that you make the most of cultural differences.

Working for leading relocations companies in Europe and the United States of America, we help staff to adjust to their work environment in a new culture. We will enable you develop your intercultural skill-set to improve cross-cultural communication in company mergers and staff relocations.
